

CCBA COLLEAGUE OF THE YEAR

Krystle Nixon

Krystle Nixon received numerous nominations for the Colleague of the Year Award—and that is not surprising. Krystle has worked as a family law paralegal for over a decade. She is a Clark County native and joined Wheeler Boyd in 2017. In 2018, Krystle helped form a group to organize Clark County’s family law paralegals. Krystle established a contact list to keep all family law paralegals apprised of Local Rule changes, the bench’s preferred methods for courtesy copies/proposed orders, and new statutes impacting family law practice. Krystle’s main goal is to “make the Judge or Commissioner’s job easier,” and she does so by encouraging uniform practices by all family law offices in Clark County. Krystle is a natural leader and loves helping other paralegals when they have questions.

Krystle works hard, is attentive to clients, and has a bright passion for family law. She is widely respected by clients, attorneys, fellow colleagues, and court staff alike. Krystle is currently participating in the Washington State Bar’s Rule 6 Program to become an attorney under the tutelage of Chris Boyd. It won’t be long before Krystle is commanding a courtroom as an attorney rather than a paralegal. In her free time, Krystle enjoys going boating and wake surfing with her husband, playing with her dogs (Kola and Na’Pali), taking care of her horses and donkey, and socializing with her big group of friends.
